Russians Attack Austrians With View to Opening Way to Roumanian Borders—Entente Powers Recall Ministers From Bulgaria—French Troops Still Land in Greece—Offensive in West Repulsed By Germans—Italy May Send Troops to Serbia—German Newspapers Condemn Shrewd Move of French in Landing Troops in Greece.

By Associated Press.

Petrograd, October 6.—Bulgaria has rejected the Russian demands and has sent an ultimatum to Serbia concerning Macedonia, according to information which has reached a Serbian newspaper, says a Moscow telegram to the Bourse Gazette.

Bulgaria demands that Serbia reply to the ultimatum within 24 hours.

Athens, Greece, October 6.—A great crowd marched to the home of M. Venizelos the retiring premier, tonight, singing the Greek and French national anthems.

The former premier at the time was in consultation with the diplomatic representatives of the entente powers.

Petrograd, October 6.—It is understood here that the British and French ministers at Sofia have received instructions to leave Bulgaria if Russia severs diplomatic relations with that country.

The Russian Foreign Office is virtually sure that Bulgaria will not comply with Russian demands and that a diplomatic breach is inevitable.

London, October 6.—Reuters' Athens correspondent states that Roumania is hurriedly dispatching troops to the Bulgarian frontier and otherwise taking extraordinary military measures.

The Roumanians are feverishly fortifying Giurgevo, on the Danube, 40 miles south of Bucharest across the river from Bulgaria, according to advices reaching Athens.

Roumanian officers of Bulgarian origin are being transferred to interior posts.

Young reserve officers have been called up, and reserves who were to have been disbanded are being kept with the colors.

London, October 6.—The resignation of Premier Venizelos and his cabinet has been accepted by King Constantine of Greece.

Official advices to this effect were received in London today.

The Greek premier's resignation, which has further complicated the already decidedly uncertain Balkan situation, was because the king informed M. Venizelos that he could not pursue the cabinet's policy to the end, according to Athens advices.

The premier had indicated that he favored strong support of Serbia, in compliance with Greece's treaty obligation.

With definite development of the courses to be pursued by Bulgaria, Greece and Roumania still lacking, the landing of allied troops at Saloniki continues.

Additional French forces disembarked there today, supplementing the force of 70,000 already landed, it is reported from Athens.

Bulgaria has failed to reply to the Russian ultimatum.

Petrograd advices state and it is assumed in entente quarters that her entry into the war on the side of the central powers is imminent.

It is declared in Athens dispatches that a scene of wild disorder in the Greek chamber followed the announcement of the cabinet's resignation. Sittings of the chamber were suspended.

KILLS FARMER, WOUNDS WIFE AND CHILDREN

By Associated Press.

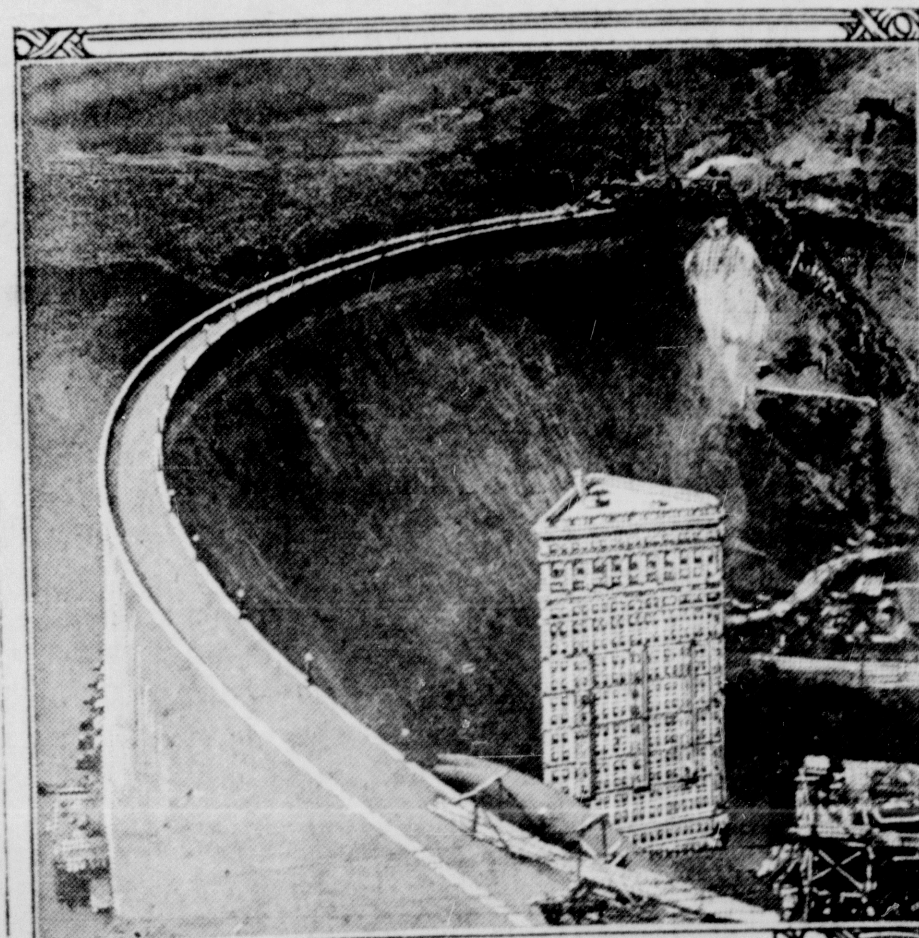

Peru, Ind., October 6.—August Bion shot and killed Bert Sears, 12 miles from here today, and wounded Mrs. Sears and her three children, because the children were gathering apples on a farm Sears had rented from Bion.

Mrs. Sears and two of the children may die.

Bion, driving by the orchard on the farm, saw the children, aged 15, 14 and 7, gathering apples. He fired on them with a shotgun.

He then went to the Sears home, shot Sears through the body, killing him instantly, and shot Mrs. Sears. Posses are searching for Bion.

LUSITANIA CASE TO BE RESUMED

Washington, October 6.—Discussion of the Lusitania case, still "pending" between the United States and Germany, probably will be resumed soon with the German Embassy here.

Secretary Lansing would not say whether the Washington government placed the coming Lusitania negotiations in the same category with the details of liability in the Arabic case, still to be discussed by the German ambassador and the State Department, although in German circles this was felt to be the case.

PRESIDENT WOULD GIVE WOMEN VOTE

By Associated Press.

Washington, October 6.—President Wilson will vote for the woman suffrage state constitutional amendment in New Jersey, his home state, at the special election October 19.

He said today he would vote not as the leader of the Democratic party, but as a private citizen.

Mr. Wilson said he believed the question should be made a party issue and should be decided by the states, not the national government.

The president said he believed the time had come to extend the privilege and responsibility of suffrage to the women of the state and that New Jersey would be benefitted by the change.

LIMPS INTO PORT

Newport, R. I., October 6.—The torpedo boat destroyer Cummings, on board which two men were burned as a result of an explosion and fire at sea yesterday, arrived here early today.

The destroyer was only slightly damaged. The explosion occurred in a quantity of fuel oil.

WILSON DEFINES DEFENSE POLICY

"Nation Must Be Very Adequately Prepared, Not for War, But for Defense," President Tells Naval Advisory Board—"Spirit of America One of Peace, But One of Independence and U. S. Must Command Respect of World," Says Pilot of the Destiny of Hundred Million People.

By Associated Press.

Washington, October 6.—President Wilson outlined his attitude toward the national defense question today to the new advisory board of the navy.

He believed, he said, the whole nation was "convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared."

The president received the members of the board, headed by Thomas A. Edison, after their preliminary conference with Secretary Daniels and navy officials.

The board later went with Secretary Daniels to the naval proving grounds at Indian Head, Md., on an inspection tour.

"There is very little that I can say

PRESIDENT WILSON.
Outlines Policy on National Defense, saying United States Must Be Very Adequately Prepared, Not for War, but for Defense.

to you," President Wilson said, "except to give you a very cordial welcome and to express my great pleasure in this association of laymen with the government. But I do want to say this: I think the whole nation is convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared; and that the preparation for defense is not merely a technical matter, it is not a matter that the army and navy alone can take care of, but a matter in which we must have the co-operation of the best brain and knowledge of the country, outside the official service of the government as well as inside.

"For my part, I feel that it is only in the spirit of a true democracy that we get together to lend such voluntary aid, the sort of aid that comes from interest, from knowledge of the varied circumstances that are involved in handling a nation.

"I want you to feel, those of you who are coming to the assistance of the professional officers of the government, that we have a very serious purpose, that we have not asked you to associate yourself with us except for a very definite and practical purpose, to get you to give us your best independent thoughts as to how we ought to make ready for any duty that may fall upon the nation.

"I do not have to expound it to you; you know as well as I do that spirit of America.

"The spirit of America is one of peace, but one of independence.

"It is a spirit that is profoundly concerned with peace, because it can express itself best only in peace. It is the spirit of peace and good will and of human freedom; but it is also the spirit of a nation that is self-conscious, that knows and loves its mission in the world and that knows that it must command the respect of the world."

GRECIAN PREMIER DESERTS HIS POST

Resigns When King Fails to Support His Policy.

ACT PRECIPITATES CRISIS

Venizelos as Head of the Government
Espoused the Cause of the Allies,
While Constantine Favors That of the Teutons—Landing of Allied
Troops at Salonica Causes the Break—Bulgaria's Position.

London, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Athens, Greece, announces that the Greek premier, M. Venizelos, handed his resignation to King Constantine. The king summoned Venizelos and informed him that he could not support the policy which had permitted the landing of entente troops at Salonica. Venizelos is virtually pledged to the support of the quadruple entente. He left the king after telling him that he would resign.

The Greek situation is one of the most peculiar, as well as the most menacing, that has arisen out of the war. The resignation of Venizelos will necessarily mean the dissolution of the present Greek cabinet and the formation of a new one. But the ministry, which is appointive by the king, must be ratified by the chamber of deputies, and the Greek chamber is radically in favor of Venizelos.

As the situation is outlined by the political commentators, King Constantine has absolutely rejected the diplomacy of his premier, whose party was returned to power last spring on a platform which openly advocated a moral, if not an active support, of the entente powers. Furthermore, the policy of the premier, which has brought forth the king's disavowal, was based on the platform which resulted in his resumption of office.

SLEUTHS DROP THE MYSTERY

New York, Oct. 6.—The mystery of the $17,000 worth of jewels from the summer home at Manchester of Mrs. James McMillan, widow of the United States senator from Michigan, Ashner had been working on the theory that the robbery was an inside job and that no servants had a hand in it. Then orders came to him from Samuels, Cromwell & Stevens, the firm which had insured the jewels for $50,000 and which had employed his agency, that he cease his investigation.

PLEDGES OF GERMANY SATISFY UNITED STATES

Washington, Oct. 6.—On behalf of the Imperial German government, Ambassador Von Bernstorff presented to Secretary of State Lansing a note on the subject of complete and unconditional disavowal of the submarine attack on the British liner Arabic and offering to pay indemnity for the American lives lost with that vessel. The note, in the opinion of the Washington officials, clears the way for a complete settlement of the submarine controversy.

The ambassador's note contained the statement that orders issued to submarine commanders by the German emperor are of such a character "that the recurrence of incidents similar to the Arabic case is considered out of the question." This, it is understood, refers to an instruction to submarine commanders that in all cases of doubt as to the hostile intentions of any enemy passenger ship the submarine is to give the passenger ship the benefit of the doubt.

This was the crucial point in the Arabic case, the German government having stated that the submarine commander reported that he thought the Arabic intended to ram him and so torpedoed her. At first the Berlin officials maintained that while it was possible that the submarine commander had made a mistake, the German government could not under any circumstances accept liability for the consequence of his act. Her reversal on this point was the result of evidence submitted to Berlin by Count Von Bernstorff, which evidence showed, in the opinion of the United States, that assumption that the Arabic intended to ram the submarine was wholly unwarranted by the facts.

Seeks Satisfactory Agreement.
Ambassador Von Bernstorff's letter to Secretary of State Lansing follows: "Prompted by the desire to reach a satisfactory agreement with regard to the Arabic incident, my government has given me the following instructions:

"The orders issued by his majesty, the emperor, to the commanders of the German submarines, of which I notified you on a previous occasion, have been made so stringent that the recurrence of incidents similar to the Arabic case is considered out of the question.

"According to the report of Commander Schneider of the submarine which sank the Arabic and his affidavit, as well as those of his men, Commander Schneider was convinced that the Arabic intended to ram the submarine.

"On the other hand the Imperial government does not doubt the good faith of the affidavit of the British officers of the Arabic, according to which the Arabic did not intend to ram the submarine.

"The attack of the submarine was undertaken against the instructions issued to the commander. The Imperial government regrets and disavows this act and has notified Commander Schneider accordingly.

"Under the circumstances, my government is prepared to pay an indemnity for American lives, which, to its deep regret, have been lost on the Arabic. I am authorized to negotiate with you about the amount of this indemnity."

Germany's Pledge.

As the submarine issue with Germany now stands, Germany has yielded the following:

A pledge that hereafter no passenger ship is to be torpedoed without warning and without regard for the safety of those on board; disavowal and promise of indemnity in the case of the Arabic, which was sunk; Germany says, contrary to instructions, assurance that further orders have been given to the submarine commanders to give enemy passenger ships the benefit of the doubt when it is not certain whether they are of hostile or peaceful intent as regards submarines.

Blackmer & Tanquary.

The United States had demanded substantially as follows: Disavowal of the Lusitania and other similar cases; reparation for American lives lost and American property destroyed in such cases; guarantees that submarines will be used only in conformity with the requirements of established international law and assurances that in the future American lives and property are not to be menaced by German submarine operations.

There remains for settlement as a result of Germany's latest pledges the Lusitania case, certain other minor cases, and the question as to whether a guarantee not to attack liners without warning is sufficiently broad to completely satisfy the demands of President Wilson.

CANADA USES YANK DESIGN IN SUBMARINE

New York, Oct. 6.—An American designed submarine is said to have destroyed the German battle cruiser Moltke in the Baltic a few weeks ago. Other vessels of this type are operating now in the North and Baltic seas. American built submarines have journeyed from this side of the Atlantic to the coast of Ireland, then to the Mediterranean, and as far as the Dardanelles, where they have been operating against the Turks with considerable success. Four boats made this journey of about 7,000 miles without a mishap of any kind and at the rate of about eight miles an hour. Ten submarines, each about 160 feet in length, were built at Montreal from American designs and patents for the British government.

A long string of victories

OUR confidence in this remarkable new heating stove—Estate Hot Storm—the stove with a "little furnace" in it—is backed up by the long string of victories which this stove has won in the few years since it was first placed on the market.

At every Fair where it has been exhibited the Estate Hot Storm has taken first prize; and its superiority over all ordinary heating stoves is so evident that no judge ever had to scratch his head to decide.

Estate Hot Storm

—the stove with a

is radically different than any other heating stove; and radically better, in every respect. "A parlor heating plant," it has been called, and the phrase fits it exactly. It works like a furnace because it's built like one, heating all the rooms of the average size house—upstairs and downstairs—just as efficiently as a furnace.

See the Estate Hot Storm at our store; let us explain its unique construction to you, and we feel sure you won't feel satisfied with any stove less up-to-date.

Bulgaria's Disgrace
Judging from advices from apparently authentic sources Bulgaria has finally determined to enter the great European war as an ally of Germany, Austria and Turkey.
That means, if present advices prove to be correct, that the Balkan states of Europe will again be subjected to the consuming flames of war.
No matter whether Bulgaria enters the war on the side of the Teutonic allies, or joins forces with England, France, Russia and Serbia, the nation stands disgraced, having held itself for sale for months past to the highest bidder.
What consideration has been offered Bulgaria by both of the warring coalitions in Europe will never be known by the world in general; the final price paid for the nation's perfidity, no matter which bidder proves successful, will always remain a secret, save with those few who have the power to sell a people into a war of death and destruction.
Slight though it may appear to those directly interested the other warring nations, each one of them, has its excuse in fancied insult feared wrong or mistaken ideas of patriotism for entering the war, but Bulgaria enters the awful maelstrom of war because her rulers are given or promised reward.
For the desperately stricken nations who buy Bulgaria into an era of horror which leaves its load of debt and oppression for generations yet unborn to stagger under, and which will demand its awful toll of death their is some excuse, but for Bulgaria there can be none.
History must record Bulgaria as a nation, the government of which was influenced by the love of gold and utterly devoid of honor and patriotic impulses.
The action of Bulgaria has no parallel in the history of the world.

The Work at Home
It is splendid to be ambitious.
It is commendable to strive for the unattainable and its is courageous to undertake the solution of weighty problems.
It might result in a more direct benefit to the individual citizen, however, and be of more advantage to the particular communities if more people would stop worrying about the solution of international and national problems and concern themselves more with the task of correctly disposing of local issues and choosing between local candidates who claim public favor and seek positions in the service of the city and townships, especially in the "off" years when no national or state officers are to be elected.
Of course every citizen should be interested in national and state elections, but they can all spare a little time from that very important duty to look after the duties closer at home which devolve upon them as citizens.
The questions of city government and law enforcement in the particular locality is of more interest and more concern to the citizens in those years when they are called upon to choose their public servants than a campaign waged three years ago or one to be waged one year hence for the election of national officers.
While the big things, politically speaking, should be looked after at the proper time, there is no need of allowing the larger tasks and the more complex problems to consume time and energy which should be used in the smaller fields of public duty.
The elections this fall are purely local in every sense of the word and the citizen who would see his community prosper materially and morally would serve himself and his neighbors best by forgetting politics, forgetting last fall's elections refusing to become exercised about the outcome of next year's elections and get right down into the work here at home.
There is no larger public task now facing the citizens of Ohio than the local elections this fall.

Savings Bank Depositors Have an Interest In Welfare of Railroads
By FRANK KNOX, President National Bank of the Republic, Salt Lake City
EVERY law that is passed affecting the railroads has an effect upon the investments held by the savings banks as the trustees of the people. If this fact were kept clearly in view by our legislators IT WOULD GO FAR TOWARD HAVING A STEADYING EFFECT UPON THEM, WITH BENEFICIAL RESULTS FOR ALL PARTIES CONCERNED.
It is quite proper to eliminate, and we are eliminating the abuses of power and privilege that have in the past crept into the management of the railroads. But, on the other hand, we must not attempt, while abolishing the privileges of the few, to embark on what has been called the impossible and inequitable task of creating privileges for the many.
Heretofore the savings banks have kept silent as to the affairs of the railroads, but in view of the vast interests they represent, in view of the millions of depositors whose trustees they are, it would seem to be only proper that they ask to be heard. The savings banks have no ax to grind.
THE SAVINGS BANKS HOLD NO BRIEF FOR THE RAILROADS, BUT IT IS THEIR PLAIN DUTY TO USE ALL PROPER MEANS TO PROTECT THE INTERESTS OF THEIR DEPOSITORS.

DARK NEUVE CHAPPELLE.
Ah! far frae their mountain-girt homes they are sleeping.
They died for their country, our brave, gallant men;
But the women and children at home they are weepin'
For the husbands and fathers they'll ne'er see again.
Oh, the swing o' the kilt! How it sets the tears startin'
There's a glamour about it that mak's the he'rt swell;
For there's many a braw lad that wore the gray tartan
Lies asleep in his cauld bed at dark Neuve Chapelle.
Oh! wild hills o' Scotland, when spring's charms enfold ye,
Oh, moors growin' green 'neath spring's magic spell.
There's money an' eye that was wont to behold ye
Is closed now forever at dark Neuve Chapelle.
There's mony a voice that would sound o'er the heather,
When its deep purple waves roll o'er hill and o'er dell,
Will sound there no more now, for silent forever,
Our brave lads lie sleepin' at dark Neuve Chapelle.
On the green graves at home here the spring flowers are creepin',
For the kind he'rts that loved them have tended them well;
But they're nae tender Scottish he'rt near to be keepin'
A watch on the new graves at dark Neuve Chapelle.
Oh! lads o' the tartan, no more ye'll be turnin'
To the land where your dyin' eyes looked as ye fell;
But there's mony a wae he'rt in Scotland is mournin'
For the lads that are lyin' at dark Neuve Chapelle.

PEARL WHITE

"THE DIRECTOR WHO CROSSES MY PATH AT EVERY TURN IN CAREER—MR. THEODORE WHARTON."
By Pearl White—The Pathe Star.
Miss Pearl White, the famous moving picture star, can hardly be called superstitious, but she feels that Theodore Wharton, the Pathe producer, is her guiding star, and when he advises anything she can be depended upon to follow the advice without any question. She explains this feeling as follows:
"About five years ago I was leading woman of a stock company playing near New York, and was just about played out. I'd had no vacation in a long time, and my voice needed a rest. Mrs. O. A. Miller joined the company one week and suggested that I go into moving pictures. 'Sure! I'm willing,' said I, 'but where can I get a job?' She gave me a list of film companies, so the next morning I dressed in my best, went to the theatre, rehearsed my next week's play until noon, and then caught a train for New York. It was January, the thermometer was below zero, and there was several feet of snow on the ground. Oh, yes, be sure I remember it very well!
"Arriving in New York I set out on foot to a film studio in 15th Street. You see money was scarce with me then, and I wanted to save that nickel. I asked to see the man who engaged the players and was asked to wait. After a while a man walked out and said, 'I am Mr. Wharton, the director, and the man who engages people.' I was very young and very small, and he seemed about eight feet tall. I asked him for a job and, as he afterwards admitted, he took me for a young thing from the country with a stage bee buzzing in her bonnet. So, in a very fatherly way he gave me a lot of advice, told me it was hard to get an engagement in pictures, and still harder to keep it—that if I had a job of any sort to stick to it. He said he had no opening for me at that time but later if I was in New York permanently, he might be able to use me once in a while.
"I went back to my show somewhat disappointed but still determined. The next week I came again to New York and saw the second name on my list. There the director took me more seriously, and offered me an engagement beginning with the next week. I stayed with that company for one year, and then determined to try a bigger concern. So I went over to Jersey to the Pathe Studio and asked to see a director. In a couple of minutes I was in the presence of Theodore Wharton again. This time he was more encouraging and recommended me to a fellow director. I was engaged and remained with Pathe for some years, but Theodore Wharton left the company the day after I joined and I didn't meet him again until my affairs again took a turn.
"I had just finished 'The Perils of Pauline' and my contract was nearly over with Pathe. I was undecided whether to stay in pictures or go back to the dramatic stage or into vaudeville. The Pathe people informed me that they wanted me to play in a new serial to be produced by some new directors. I was asked to meet them. I walked into the office and there was Theodore Wharton again! My mind was at once made up. I said to Mr. Wharton 'Every time my career takes a turn you cross my path first and it has always meant more success for me. I will play Elaine!'
"A Disturbing Sound.
"There is no excuse for a man being run down by a motorcar. All he has to do is to keep his wits about him."
"Of course," replied the recent victim, in sarcastic tones. "There is nothing more conducive to rational thinking than a loud 'honk' heard unexpectedly in one's rear."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Farmer's Wife Loses $750
She had been getting together by degrees quite a sum of money from the sale of eggs, poultry and butter. It represented hard work covering quite a period of time. She kept it in a pocket she had made behind the mirror of her bureau. When she went to get it the other day it was gone. No one knows just when, or how, or where it is gone. Had she kept that money at the Fayette County Bank she would today have it. Where is your money just now? Why not before the chance to lose it comes open an account with it here?

WASHINGTON WILL HAVE STRONG LYCEUM COURSE

Demand for Usual Lyceum Attractions Results in Course Consisting of Seven High Grade Numbers Being Obtained—Opening Number is November 15th.

A short time ago when announcement was made that in all probability Washington would have no lyceum or lecture course this winter, a great demand arose for such source of entertainment and instruction, with the result that within the past forty-eight hours all of the preliminary details usually requiring several weeks have been worked out, and one of the best lyceum courses in many years has been obtained and the opening number will be held November 15th.

The committee appointed to select and push the course is composed of Messrs Fred M. Mark, Ray Maynard, D. H. Rowe, Herman Price, B. E. Kelley, Glenn Woodmansee and Fred Schmid, and at a meeting Tuesday night with Mr. Frank J. Resler, of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, closed a contract for the course and prospectuses and tickets will be ready within a short time.

The committee was extremely fortunate in obtaining really big attractions and the course is one of the best balanced offered to local lyceum patrons in the entire history of the Washington Lyceum Course, and the committee has selected only those numbers which are expected to give the utmost satisfaction, and which are marked by refinement and calculated to be not only highly entertaining but educational, realizing that the best is never too good for Washingtonians and Fayette countians.

One of the strongest numbers of the course is the opening entertainment on November 15th—The Fidelity Grand Operatic Company, composed of real artists who put on a classical program of great merit.

November 29th that king of the humorists, Ralph Bingham, assisted by his talented wife, will appear. Mr. Bingham is one of the really big humorists of the nation, and not new to many local citizens.

The third attraction is the American Male Quartette an organization of the first magnitude and equal to any ever appearing in the city. An extremely clever cartoonist is a pleasant diversion of the evening's entertainment.

January 4th, Thomas Brooks Fletcher, a magnetic lecturer who for several years has been one of the greatest platform speakers in America, and who has always made good and been recalled more times than nine-tenths of the lyceum attractions.

January 14th, The Rawels, a unique and intensely interesting company, all graduates of Oxford, England, will appear.

February 24th, the well known Cavaliers, consisting of seven highly talented men and women, each an expert in his or her role, are to appear.

The course will be closed with another giant of the platform, Chancellor George H. Bradford, in one of his strongest lectures upon a theme of vital importance, and absorbing interest.

The above dates are subject to slight change before the prospectuses are issued, but all of the seven numbers will be retained.

The Lyceum Course will, as usual, be held in the city's largest auditorium, Grace Church, and it is the intention of the committee to hold the ticket sale down to comfortable seating capacity.

ANNUAL SALE BIG SUCCESS

An immense crowd of breeders and farmers including a number of prominent breeders from a distance, attended the annual fall sale of Improved Durocs, conducted by the Ex. Estate of Hugh K. Stewart, at Spring Hill Farm, Tuesday.

The big pavilion was filled when Col. H. L. Inglehart, of Elizabethtown, Ky., rose to cry the sale, in which he was assisted by Col. W. H. Irwin, of Harrod, Ohio; W. F. Jefferson, Clerk.

Fall sales have not been moving off with the swing of last year generally, but there was no lack of bidding at the Spring Hill sale and breeders pronounced it the best sale they had attended this fall, and were loud in praise of the offering.

Forty-three head of the Durocs averaged $40. One of the best spring gilts brought $100 and a spring boar $100.

Field men connected with the Duroc Bulletin and Swine Breeders' Journal, as well as stock men present, were impressed by the excellent management of the sale by Mrs. Hugh K. Stewart and Miss Martin, and the thorough knowledge of the hog business shown in its conduct.

Every attention was shown the buyers, an appetizing luncheon served in the basement dining room of the home and free auto service provided to and from the farm.

WHY GRAND JURY ASKS FOR CHANGES AT JAIL

Solitary Confinement Cell Advocated Is Said to Have Long Been Badly Required in County Bastile—Solitary Confinement Impossible at the Present Time.

The grand jury's recommendation that a cell for solitary confinement be placed in the county jail represents the first radical changes recommended by that body in recent years and brings attention to the present arrangement of cells in the county bastille.

The jail at the present time has neither solitary confinement cell or padded cell, but is composed of two tiers of steel barred cells in that portion set aside for male prisoners, and two cells on the second floor in the female section of the jail, the last named portion of the prison being over one of the living rooms of the residence portion of the jail and completely isolated from the main part of the prison.

The main portion of the jail contains eight cells, four on the first floor and four on the second, and as what is said in one cell can easily be heard in the other cells on the same floor, it has always been an extremely difficult matter to prevent one prisoner talking with the others, and a solitary confinement cell would fill a long felt need, it is claimed.

In addition to the above all prisoners are sometimes kept awake by the ravings of an insane man or one who is intoxicated, and solitary confinement would hold the din from the main part of the prison, it is argued.

Ordinarily prisoners are permitted the freedom of the various corridors inside the prison, but it is often necessary to lock a prisoner in a cell, and sometimes confinement in a solitary cell is deemed advisable to compel obedience.

Whether the county commissioners will act upon the recommendation of the grand jury, remains to be seen, as a solitary confinement cell would be a problem to locate in the prison as at present arranged.

The management of the Sharp memorial building will be placed in the hands of Secretary Patton, instead of under the direct management of the board as heretofore.

RIGHT ON THE JOB.

Mose, the Newsboy, Grasped the Situation and Saved the Day.

Mose Jacobs, the richest newsboy in the country, began selling papers in Des Moines, Ia., when six years of age and at forty-four is still at it. He has a fine house, an automobile and a good income. He has established his business in a store and is now a merchant, but it is still his delight to meet incoming trains with his cry of "Paper!" His average sales are 3,000 a day.

Once upon a time Mose saved the city of Des Moines from disgrace. The then secretary of war, Russell A. Alger, was coming to the capital of Iowa. Great plans had been made for his reception. There was to be a band, many open carriages and tall hats and reception committee ribbons a-fluttering. But in some way the plans miscarried. When the great man stepped from the train there was nobody there to meet him—nobody, that is, except Mose, the newsboy. Mose grasped the situation in a second. He recognized Mr. Alger from his pictures. He dumped his bundle of papers on the platform and strode up to the secretary of war, extending a cordial hand.

"Mr. Alger, I believe?"
It was Mose's best voice, the voice which has brought in the coppers to the tune of about $35,000.

"I'm glad to meet you, sir. I'm

Mose Jacobs. There's evidently been some mistake. The committee expected you on a later train, but—welcome to Des Moines. The keys of the city are yours." And Mr. Alger was hustled into a carriage and directed to a hotel.—American Magazine.

Views of Others

Washington C. H., Oct. 5, 1915. Editor Herald:

It is my understanding that the contract for lighting the city is out the first of 1916. My idea is to not renew this contract but to issue bonds and buy out the lighting system and let the city run it with non-partisan officers and labor.

If the people who now own this business can run it at a profit, why not the city? And then we could either have cheaper lights, such as Cleveland, for instance, at 3 cents, or we would still maintain the present rate and use the surplus for improvements.

I think if this was put before the public in the proper manner that they would gladly vote the bond issue for it. I would like to hear from someone else on this subject.

SPEED OF PROJECTILES.

How the Velocity of Cannon Balls and Bullets is Measured.

How fast does a bullet travel? The highest velocity ever given to a cannon ball is 1,626 feet per second. This is equal to a mile in little more than three seconds, or nearly twenty miles a minute.

A rifle bullet does not travel so fast as a cannon ball, the average rate being 1,275 feet per second. This matter of speed is tested in a very interesting way.

A long wooden shed is used, in which a distance of exactly 100 feet has been carefully marked off. At each end of this space is a stand something like a target with a large circular opening where the bulseye should be. Across each opening is stretched a small electric wire, connected with a delicate instrument in another room.

The rifle from which the firing is done is so aimed that the bullet which flies from it cuts both wires. Obviously the difference in time between the cutting of the two wires marks the speed of the bullet through that 100 feet.

When the first wire is cut an electric current is broken and a rod falls, moving a pointer on a slide in its descent. The breaking of the second wire acts in the same manner on another set of rods, slides and pointers.

The difference in the marks made by the pointers on the slides makes it possible to estimate the difference in their time of falling, and from these calculations accurate figures as to speed are obtained.—London Answers.

NEW YORK BUSINESS MEN BUSY

Are Striving to Secure Dyestuffs From Germany.

New York, Oct. 6.—Negotiations are being conducted with the British government by dyestuff importers in New York, it was stated definitely in importing circles, for the unhindered passage of shipments of dyestuffs from Germany to this country by way of Norway and Sweden. The project covers some six cargoes and is said to include an agreement between the American importers and the British government by which 50 per cent of the cargoes received under the plan are to be reshipped to British dyestuff users.

According to the reports current in the dye industry the plan is based on an agreement reached between American importers and the German government for the export of six cargoes by way of Norway and Sweden. The importers here have been contending that the British government might seize the cargoes. Persons in close touch with the situation say that the first of these difficulties has been overcome, at least partially, although it is not at all certain, according to the gossip, whether the German government will agree to such a proposition. If it is understood that half of the shipment is to be returned to Great Britain. Three cargoes are said to be ready for shipment from Germany to Scandinavian ports, in accordance with the arrangement, and three more will follow when arrangements have been more definitely completed. The reshipments to English textile manufacturers are to be made at the market prices prevailing in this country.

Alfred... the Teuton Ent... in the Western Zone, ... to Attempting Another Drive in Force—British Fleet Shelling German Positions On the Coast of Belgium—Review of Operations.

London, Oct. 6.—The big guns of the allies have again undertaken the task of attempting to level German entrenchments, presumably in preparation for a continuation of the attacks which proved successful in Artois and Champagne. In some sectors there has been infantry fighting, in which a trench, or a few yards of a trench, changes hands, this being particularly the case in the areas where the allies have made their gains and where the Germans are trying to win back the lost ground. The British fleet, too, is almost continuously bombarding the German positions on the coast of Belgium.

PHYSICIANS' INSURANCE CONDEMNED

Columbus, Oct. 6.—State Superintendent of Insurance Frank Taggart ordered casualty companies to immediately cancel all policies for the protection of physicians against damages through suits for malpractice and to return the unearned premiums to the policyholders. Under a ruling given by the attorney general's department, a year ago, the writing of such physicians' defense insurance is held to be illegal by Superintendent Taggart. Thousands of physicians in the state are affected by the ruling, as most of the practitioners have been carrying this kind of insurance.

SEEK WRIT TO STOP HEARING

Columbus, Oct. 6.—Proceedings under the old English writ of prohibition were commenced in the supreme court to prevent the state liquor license commission from hearing and acting upon charges which have been filed against eleven county license commissioners for alleged participation in the referendum on the McDermott law. If the court allows the writ the state commission will be estopped from proceeding further with the hearings set for Oct. 25.

STRIKE SETTLED

Cleveland, Oct. 6.—The Cleveland Automatic Machine company strike has been settled. The men accept Garford's terms, giving them all they asked for with the exception of the closed shop.

German lines continue to be heavily shelled by the French artillery and their aircraft.

Petrograd reports that the Russians, who for five months have been retreating, have begun an energetic offensive along a wide front, from Riga to southeast of Vilna, and have already met with considerable success. This, however, is denied by Berlin, which says that all the Russian attacks have been repulsed.

A German official statement on the general offensive movement of the entente allies on the western front declares in effect that it is shown to have been a do-or-die effort to end the war, which failed. The Berlin war office asserts that both French and British army orders prove that the movement was started with the intention of driving the Germans from French soil. The allies, the statement declares, expected to break through the German lines and gain the open field, thus turning out the Teutons, the expulsion of whom would influence hitherto neutral nations to join the entente powers. Notwithstanding what is declared to have been a seven-fold numerical superiority and possession of vast stores of war material, the German lines were not broken, but merely pushed back in two comparatively small sectors to the second, and by no means the last, German line. It is asserted that virtually no German troops which were intended for service on other fronts were diverted from their destination by the allied attack.

STORK BOOSTS OHIO BIRTHS

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Fresh Air in the Lungs.
Your body is a human house, the place in which you live. Food alone cannot make this house a healthy place. The lungs, the ventilators of the house, must be filled and refilled many times each minute with pure, fresh air. The air breathed deep into the tiny cells of the lungs meets and purifies the blood which has been sent there by the heart, the great pump in your human house. This pump is kept busy every moment. It must gather the waste laden blood from every part of the body and send it to the lungs; then it must take the purified blood back to the farthest point of the human house. Sometimes invisible enemies, the microbes, creep into the human house and try to steal our health away. Nothing can do more in the way of driving these little enemies out than our ventilators, the lungs, when they are allowed an abundance of fresh air.

Opened Her Eyes.

Clara—Can it be, Dolly, that you are to marry Mr. Smith after saying to me repeatedly that you could not endure him? Dolly—The truth is, Clara, dear, that until I heard that his aunt had died, leaving him a fortune, I was deceived in my own feelings toward him. —London Telegraph.

Deferred to the King.

CAPACITY ECLIPSED TEN TIMES

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Applicants for tickets to the world's series games to be played in this city beginning Friday will not know until Thursday whether they are fortunate enough to secure the coveted seats. The management of the club announced that notices would be sent out by mail to those to whom tickets have been allotted, stating how they can be obtained. Thousands, however, are doomed to disappointment because the applications exceed the seating capacity of the park tenfold or more. The Philadelphia baseball writers selected Chandler E. Richter of Sporting Life to be one of the official scorers of the series. President Wilson will attend Saturday's game here.

B. F. KEITH'S

"The Bride Shop" written by Fred de Gressac, author of "The Enchantress" will be the headline attraction at Keith's Theater, Columbus, for the week of October 11. Andrew Tombes, the celebrated comedian and Miss Lola Wentworth, the attractive young prima donna, will be co-stars of this tabloid musical comedy. The staging, costuming and every detail of this act is as perfect as possible, and reflects the good showmanship of A. B. Rolfe, who presents the act. Twenty capable assistants including the most attractive girls in vaudeville, will support Miss Wentworth and Mr. Tombes.

J. Warren Keane and Miss Grace White will give a new variety act which they program as "Class, Tricks, Laughs and Music." They will offer their own original card and billiard tricks as well as new songs and piano attractions.

Arthur Sullivan and his capable company will present "Straight," a play dealing with the reformation of crooks in a new way. Mr. Sullivan is an actor-author who is also a successful stage director and it is due to his ability that "Straight" is so cleverly staged.

Mignon, the dainty mimic, will present her ideas of the mannerisms of older performers as well as her original ideas of entertaining.

There will be three feature acts and the Pathe pictures to complete the bill.

KEITH'S SUNDAY PICTURES

For Sunday, October 10, "The Closing Net" by H. C. Rowland, with Howard Estabrook in the leading role, will be the film attraction at Keith's both afternoon and night. Mr. Estabrook was the original "Brown of Harvard" and has since scored in other successes. "The Closing Net" is the fifth of the Gold Rooster picture plays to be shown at Keith's where they are attracting wide attention.

FORMER GOVERNOR WILL SPEAK HERE

Ex-Governor J. Frank Hanley, of Indiana, will speak here Sunday night on the wet and dry issue in Ohio, the meeting to be held at Memorial Hall and be free to everyone. The meeting opens at 7:30 o'clock.

MINE RESCUE MEN TRAIN

By Associated Press.

Columbus, October 6. — Football men never got more grilling training on the gridiron than John M. Roan, state safety mining commission, began giving his new mine rescue team about the state house several days ago.

Here are a few antics which Roan made his men to perform: Stand in tightly sealed rooms in the capitol basement filled with thick smoke, wearing heavy oxygen helmets and tanks. Climb over ten foot wall in smoke-filled room, carrying dummy weighing 150 pounds. Tramp through corridors of cement basement at state house for distance equivalent to three miles, wearing helmet. Climb state house dome wearing helmet. Crawl through ventilating tunnel two feet high and carry dummy. Manipulate mine machinery in complete darkness.

The state mine safety car, kept at Columbus, always ready to make a run to the mining districts of eastern or southern Ohio, also is the practice ground for the men.

WOMAN OUT OF OHIO PEN

By Associated Press.

Columbus, October 6. — Among the 50 prisoners granted parole from the penitentiary here today was Mrs. Carlotta Thompson Brown, formerly a prominent figure in Cincinnati financial circles.

She was convicted of embezzlement on a charge of using $20,000 of a client's stock while she was at the head of a stock and bond house.

Friends have been urging her release for some time.

RESERVOIR BREAKS VALLEY IS FLOODED

Three dwellings were destroyed, the side of a hill washed away and many lives endangered at Portsmouth, Monday when the east wall of the huge reservoir for the storage of water for Portsmouth gave way, precipitating 7,000,000 gallons of water down the hillside.

The walls of the reservoir were 15 feet in height and constructed of concrete. The contractors who constructed the reservoir were Shumway & Shumway, the men who made the Devalon road improvement in this county.

SEEKING HAPPINESS.

Little Things That Make Living a Joy Are Not Always Appreciated.

We are told that happiness comes by pieces and that it is these small bits linked together that make our lives worth while. Some of us are not content to take our happiness by degrees or at intervals. We want it all the time in big pieces, and if we cannot have it that way we think that we are deprived of our natural rights and look upon ourselves as injured beings.

It is a rather singular expression of human nature how happiness affects the individual. With some of us it makes us friendlier toward others and anxious that they should experience like joys; with others it makes us too satisfied with ourselves to think very much of our neighbors.

Perhaps those of us who know what the joy of living means have experienced both of these attitudes at different periods of our lives and are in position, therefore, to appreciate a varying viewpoint, but even so it is only after we lose something of that joy of living and have found out for ourselves that there are shadows which no amount of sunlight can disperse that we can readily appreciate the blessing of whatever happiness may find its way into our lives.

The little things that count so much in our intercourse with each other are not always regarded as highly as they should be, and for this reason we pass by much that would give us joy if we only knew how and where to find it.—Charleston News and Courier.

Gardens in the Ice.

A glacier when it dislodges itself and sails away over the Arctic ocean never travels alone. In the wake of every glacier is a line of smaller companions. The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and any one who has watched the progress of the wild duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name. Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath, just as sawdust does. After a time the moss decays and forms a soil, in which the seeds of buttercups and dandelions, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Professional Pawnbrokers.

In many of the mean streets of London there are professional pawnbrokers—women, well known to the pawnbrokers, who for small payments take clothes and household goods to pawn for their neighbors. It is stated that the function of the professional pawnbroker is twofold. The woman who pawns through a recognized intermediary gets a larger loan than she would if she did the business herself. For the pawnbroker the professional pawnbroker guarantees the good faith of the owner and will be able to exercise pressure in case of default.—London Express.

ODESSA'S RAPID RISE.

In Commerce and Intellect It Is the Capital of New Russia.

Odessa is one of the most important seaports of Russia, ranking, by reason of its population and its foreign trade, after Petrograd, Moscow and Warsaw. Since it was founded in 1794 near the ruins of a Turkish fort that fell into Russian hands in 1789 it has rapidly become the intellectual and commercial capital of what is called New Russia. It is the principal export town for the extensive grain growing districts of south Russia, the see of an archbishop of the Greek Orthodox church, the center of a fine university and the headquarters of the Seventh army corps.

The port lies on the shore of the Black sea, about midway between the estuaries of the Dniester and Dnieper, 967 miles from Moscow and 381 from Kiev. The city is built facing the sea, on low cliffs, seamed with deep ravines and hollowed out by galleries in the soft rock, in which thousands of the poorest inhabitants live. But above

LIFE ON SWAN ISLAND.

Probably the World's Most Isolated Wireless Station.

On Swan island, in the Caribbean sea, is situated what is probably the most isolated wireless station in the world. The station crew is made up of three operators, two engineers, a cook, a machinist and three laborers.

No women are permitted to land on the island. Men who express a willingness to go to Swan island are obliged to sign a contract whereby they agree to remain at least eighteen months or waive their right to free return transportation. Those remaining the full period of service are returned to their homes by way of one of the Central American ports and are granted six weeks' vacation with full pay.

Strangely enough, there is no difficulty in obtaining men to man the station. Applicants, indeed, exceed the number of vacancies. Board and lodging, of course, are supplied, a boat bearing all provisions necessary, including fresh meat, and the mail as well, arriving regularly every two weeks. Some men have remained on the island as long as two years and a half and, subsequently, have been glad to return to the station.—Philadelphia Record.

BULGARIA IGNORING RUSSIA HURLS GAUNTLET AT SERBIA

Bulgaria Expected to Open Hostilities at Any Moment, Favoring Germanic Allies.

GREECE STILL IN GREAT UPROAR ROUMANIAN TROOPS ON FRONTIER

Russians Attack Austrians With View to Opening Way to Roumanian Borders—Entente Powers Recall Ministers From Bulgaria—French Troops Still Land in Greece—Offensive in West Repulsed By Germans—Italy May Send Troops to Serbia—German Newspapers Condemn Shrewd Move of French in Landing Troops in Greece.

By Associated Press.
Petrograd, October 6.—Bulgaria has rejected the Russian demands and has sent an ultimatum to Serbia concerning Macedonia, according to information which has reached a Serbian newspaper, says a Moscow telegram to the Bourse Gazette.

Bulgaria demands that Serbia reply to the ultimatum within 24 hours.

Athens, Greece, October 6.—A great crowd marched to the home of M. Venizelos the retiring premier, tonight, singing the Greek and French national anthems.

The former premier at the time was in consultation with the diplomatic representatives of the entente powers.

Petrograd, October 6.—It is understood here that the British and French ministers at Sofia have received instructions to leave Bulgaria if Russia severs diplomatic relations with that country.

The Russian Foreign Office is virtually sure that Bulgaria will not comply with Russian demands and that a diplomatic breach is inevitable.

Berlin, via wireless, October 6.—A dispatch from Czernowitz, Bukovina, reports that Russian forces have made a violent attack on the Austrians along the Bessarabian frontier, northeast of that city.

This movement is of great interest, in view of the present state of affairs in the Balkans. The point of the Russian attack lies directly north of the Roumanian frontier.

Rome, Italy, October 6.—Five Serbian army officers of high rank have arrived in Rome.

Their presence has attracted much attention, as it is reported they are to accompany an Italian expedition to the Balkans.

Udine, Italy, October 6.—King Victor Emanuel recently had a narrow escape from death or serious injury by shell fire, while close to the firing line at the front.

His horse was wounded by splinters of shrapnel, but the king was unhurt.

Berlin, October 6.—Berlin newspapers characterize the landing of French troops at Saloniki as an act of violence and dwell upon what they term the inconsistency of the entente powers, which denounced the German invasion of Belgium, in now overriding the neutrality of Greece.

London, October 6.—Reuters' Athens correspondent states that Roumania is hurriedly dispatching troops to the Bulgarian frontier and otherwise taking extraordinary military measures.

The Roumanians are feverishly fortifying Giurgevo, on the Danube, 40 miles south of Bucharest across the river from Bulgaria, according to advices reaching Athens.

Roumanian officers of Bulgarian origin are being transferred to interior posts.

Young reserve officers have been called up, and reserves who were to have been disbanded are being kept with the colors.

London, October 6.—The resignation of Premier Venizelos and his cabinet has been accepted by King Constantine of Greece.

Official advices to this effect were received in London today.

The Greek premier's resignation, which has further complicated the already decidedly uncertain Balkan situation, was because the king informed M. Venizelos that he could not pursue the cabinet's policy to the end, according to Athens advices.

The premier had indicated that he favored strong support of Serbia, in compliance with Greece's treaty obligation.

With definite development of the courses to be pursued by Bulgaria, Greece and Roumania still lacking, the landing of allied troops at Saloniki continues.

Additional French forces disembarked there today, supplementing the force of 70,000 already landed, it is reported from Athens.

Bulgaria has failed to reply to the Russian ultimatum.

Petrograd advices state and it is assumed in entente quarters that her entry into the war on the side of the central powers is imminent.

It is declared in Athens dispatches that a scene of wild disorder in the Greek chamber followed the announcement of the cabinet's resignation. Sittings of the chamber were suspended.

Some progress in connecting trenches in the Artois region.

Berlin, via London, October 6.—

An attempt by the French to resume the offensive on the Champagne front by heavy artillery fire against the German positions, was frustrated with heavy losses by the German artillery, it was announced by army headquarters today.

KILLS FARMER, WOUNDS WIFE AND CHILDREN

By Associated Press.

Peru, Ind., October 6.—August Bion shot and killed Bert Sears, 12 miles from here today, and wounded Mrs. Sears and her three children, because the children were gathering apples on a farm Sears had rented from Bion.

Mrs. Sears and two of the children may die.

Bion, driving by the orchard on the farm, saw the children, aged 15, 14 and 7, gathering apples. He fired on them with a shotgun.

He then went to the Sears home, shot Sears through the body, killing him instantly, and shot Mrs. Sears. Poses are searching for Bion.

LUSITANIA CASE TO BE RESUMED

Washington, October 6.—Discussion of the Lusitania case, still "pending" between the United States and Germany, probably will be resumed soon with the German Embassy here.

Secretary Lansing would not say whether the Washington government placed the coming Lusitania negotiations in the same category with the details of liability in the Arabic case, still to be discussed by the German ambassador and the State Department, although in German circles this was felt to be the case.

PRESIDENT WOULD GIVE WOMEN VOTE

By Associated Press.

Washington, October 6.—President Wilson will vote for the woman suffrage state constitutional amendment in New Jersey, his home state, at the special election October 19.

He said today he would vote not as the leader of the Democratic party, but as a private citizen.

Mr. Wilson said he believed the question should be made a party issue and should be decided by the states, not the national government.

The president said he believed the time had come to extend the privilege and responsibility of suffrage to the women of the state and that New Jersey would be benefitted by the change.

LIMPS INTO PORT

WILSON DEFINES DEFENSE POLICY

"Nation Must Be Very Adequately Prepared, Not for War, But for Defense," President Tells Naval Advisory Board—"Spirit of America One of Peace, But One of Independence and U. S. Must Command Respect of World," Says Pilot of the Destiny of Hundred Million People.

By Associated Press.

Washington, October 6.—President Wilson outlined his attitude toward the national defense question today to the new advisory board of the navy.

He believed, he said, the whole nation was "convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared."

The president received the members of the board, headed by Thomas A. Edison, after their preliminary conference with Secretary Daniels and navy officials.

The board later went with Secretary Daniels to the naval proving grounds at Indian Head, Md., on an inspection tour.

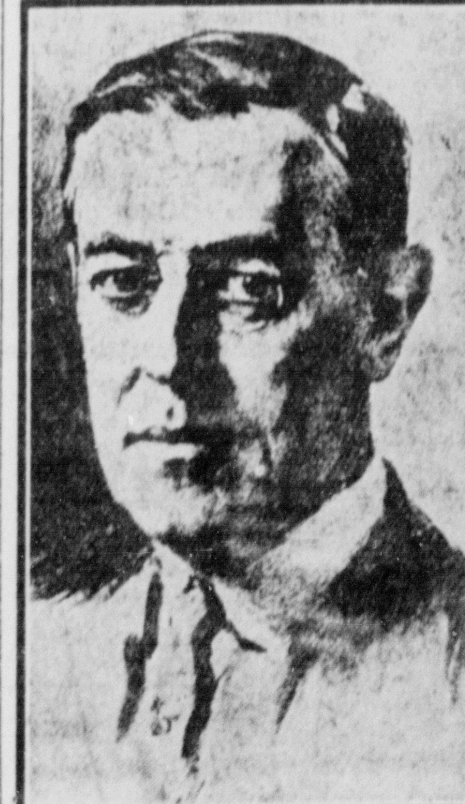

"There is very little that I can say

the professional officers of the government, that we have a very serious purpose, that we have not asked you to associate yourself with us except for a very definite and practical purpose, to get you to give us your best independent thoughts as to how we ought to make ready for any duty that may fall upon the nation.

"I do not have to expound it to you; you know as well as I do that spirit of America.

"The spirit of America is one of peace, but one of independence.

"It is a spirit that is profoundly concerned with peace, because it can express itself best only in peace. It is the spirit of peace and good will and of human freedom; but it is also the spirit of a nation that is self-conscious, that knows and loves its mission in the world and that knows that it must command the respect of the world."

to you," President Wilson said, "except to give you a very cordial welcome and to express my great pleasure in this association of laymen with the government. But I do want to say this: I think the whole nation is convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared; and that the preparation for defense is not merely a technical matter, it is not a matter that the army and navy alone can take care of, but a matter in which we must have the co-operation of the best brain and knowledge of the country, outside the official service of the government as well as inside.

"For my part, I feel that it is only in the spirit of a true democracy that we get together to lend such voluntary aid, the sort of aid that comes from interest, from knowledge of the varied circumstances that are involved in handling a nation.

GRECIAN PREMIER DESERTS HIS POST

Resigns When King Fails to Support His Policy.

ACT PRECIPITATES CRISIS

Venizelos as Head of the Government
Espoused the Cause of the Allies,
While Constantine Favors That of the Teutons—Landing of Allied
Troops at Salonica Causes the Break—Bulgaria's Position.

London, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Athens, Greece, announces that the Greek premier, M. Venizelos, handed his resignation to King Constantine. The king summoned Venizelos and informed him that he could not support the policy which had permitted the landing of entente troops at Salonica. Venizelos is virtually pledged to the support of the quadruple entente. He left the king after telling him that he would resign.

The Greek situation is one of the most peculiar, as well as the most menacing, that has arisen out of the war. The resignation of Venizelos will necessarily mean the dissolution of the present Greek cabinet and the formation of a new one. But the ministry, which is appointive by the king, must be ratified by the chamber of deputies, and the Greek chamber is radically in favor of Venizelos.

As the situation is outlined by the political commentators, King Constantine has absolutely rejected the diplomacy of his premier, whose party was returned to power last spring on a platform which openly advocated a moral, if not an active support, of the entente powers. Furthermore, the policy of the premier, which has brought forth the king's disavowal, was based on the platform which resulted in his resumption of office. It would appear that King Constantine, always a sympathizer of the German cause, has determined to stake everything on the support of that cause and to prevent Greece from allying itself with the allies even at the risk of losing his throne. It is pointed out here that a break between the king and Venizelos is likely to throw the country into revolution.

It is taken for granted here that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and his ministers are definitely committed to the Germanic allies, and in return for territory to be ceded after the war, has undertaken to assist actively in the operations against Serbia, thus hoping to open the way for the Austro-German army, the objective of which is the Sea of Marmora. The entente powers, in this belief, have landed a force of 70,000 men at Salonica, which will take upon itself the duty of protecting the main railway through Serbia and Greece and give what assistance it can to the Balkan allies, should they be attacked by Bulgaria. This infringement of Greek neutrality has brought forth a formal protest from the Greek government.

The next move devolves upon Bulgaria, and as soon as it moves, the Anglo-French troops which are being mobilized will be put in motion, while the fleets in the Black sea and the Aegean will assume their appointed roles.

Bulgarian ports on the Danube have been closed, says a dispatch from Salonica, and a complete blockade of Bulgaria is now established to all intents and purposes. The Russian Black sea fleet has closed all communications by water on the east, while in the south the warships of France and Great Britain are patrolling the Aegean coast.

PLEDGES OF GERMANY SATISFY UNITED STATES

Washington, Oct. 6.—On behalf of the Imperial German government, Ambassador Von Bernstorff presented to Secretary of State Lansing a note announcing complete and unconditional disavowal of the submarine attack on the British liner Arabic and offering to pay indemnity for the American lives lost with that vessel. The note, in the opinion of the Washington officials, clears the way for a complete settlement of the submarine controversy.

The ambassador's note contained the statement that orders issued to submarine commanders by the German emperor are of such a character "that the recurrence of incidents similar to the Arabic case is considered out of the question." This, it is understood, refers to an instruction to submarine commanders that in all cases of doubt as to the hostile intentions of any enemy passenger ship the submarine is to give the passenger ship the benefit of the doubt.

This was the crucial point in the Arabic case, the German government having stated that the submarine commander reported that he thought the Arabic intended to ram him and so torpedoed her. At first the Berlin officials maintained that while it was possible that the submarine commander had made a mistake, the German government could not under any circumstances accept liability for the consequence of his act. Her reversal on this point was the result of evidence submitted to Berlin by Count Von Bernstorff, which evidence showed, in the opinion of the United States, that assumption that the Arabic intended to ram the submarine was wholly unwarranted by the facts.

Seeks Satisfactory Agreement.

SLEUTHS DROP THE MYSTERY

New York, Oct. 6.—The mystery of the McMillan jewel robbery, as it is called, may never be solved as far as the public is concerned, because the last detective working on the case was called off. Morris Ashner, head of a local detective agency, was conducting a vigorous hunt for the thief who stole the $77,000 worth of jewels from the summer home at Manchester of Mrs. James McMillan, widow of the United States senator from Michigan. Ashner had been working on the theory that the robbery was an inside job and that no servants had a hand in it. Then orders came to him from Samuels, Cromwell & Stevens, the firm which had insured the jewels for $50,000 and which had employed his agency, that he cease his investigation.

INDORSE PLAN OF ROCKEFELLER

Denver, Colo., Oct. 6.—The miners of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company's coal camps will adopt the Rockefeller industrial plan by a vote of 11 to 1, according to returns from the elections received from a majority of the camps. With the receipt of the final returns the new industrial scheme will become operative, and both the company officials and the representatives of the miners believe strikes will be completely at an end.

The United States had demanded substantially as follows: Disavowal of the Lusitania and other similar cases; reparation for American lives lost and American property destroyed in such cases; guarantees that submarines will be used only in conformity with the requirements of established international law and assurances that in the future American lives and property are not to be menaced by German submarine operations.

There remains for settlement as a result of Germany's latest pledges the Lusitania case, certain other minor cases, and the question as to whether a guarantee not to attack liners without warning is sufficiently broad to completely satisfy the demands of President Wilson.

CANADA USES YANK DESIGN IN SUBMARINE

New York, Oct. 6.—An American designed submarine is said to have destroyed the German battle cruiser Moltke in the Baltic a few weeks ago. Other vessels of this type are operating now in the North and Baltic seas. American built submarines have journeyed from this side of the Atlantic to the coast of Ireland, then to the Mediterranean, and as far as the Dardanelles, where they have been operating against the Turks with considerable success. Four boats made this journey of about 7,000 miles without a mishap of any kind and at the rate of about eight miles an hour. Ten submarines, each about 160 feet in length, were built at Montreal from American designs and patents for the British government.

A long string of victories

OUR confidence in this remarkable new heating stove—Estate Hot Storm—the stove with a "little furnace" in it—is backed up by the long string of victories which this stove has won in the few years since it was first placed on the market.

At every Fair where it has been exhibited the Estate Hot Storm has taken first prize; and its superiority over all ordinary heating stoves is so evident that no judge ever had to scratch his head to decide.

Estate Hot Storm

—the stove with a

is radically different than any other heating stove; and radically better, in every respect. "A parlor heating plant," it has been called, and the phrase fits it exactly. It works like a furnace because it's built like one, heating all the rooms of the average size house—upstairs and downstairs—just as efficiently as a furnace.

See the Estate Hot Storm at our store; let us explain its unique construction to you, and we feel sure you won't feel satisfied with any stove less up-to-date.

Bulgaria's Disgrace

Judging from advices from apparently authentic sources Bulgaria has finally determined to enter the great European war as an ally of Germany, Austria and Turkey.

That means, if present advices prove to be correct, that the Balkan states of Europe will again be subjected to the consuming flames of war.

No matter whether Bulgaria enters the war on the side of the Teutonic allies, or joins forces with England, France, Russia and Serbia, the nation stands disgraced, having held itself for sale for months past to the highest bidder.

What consideration has been offered Bulgaria by both of the warring coalitions in Europe will never be known by the world in general; the final price paid for the nation's perfidy, no matter which bidder proves successful, will always remain a secret, save with those few who have the power to sell a people into a war of death and destruction.

Slight though it may appear to those directly interested the other warring nations, each one of them, has its excuse in fancied insult feared wrong or mistaken ideas of patriotism for entering the war, but Bulgaria enters the awful maelstrom of war because her rulers are given or promised reward.

For the desperately stricken nations who buy Bulgaria into an era of horror which leaves its load of debt and oppression for generations yet unborn to stagger under, and which will demand its awful toll of death their is some excuse, but for Bulgaria there can be none.

History must record Bulgaria as a nation, the government of which was influenced by the love of gold and utterly devoid of honor and patriotic impulses.

The action of Bulgaria has no parallel in the history of the world.

The Work at Home

It is splendid to be ambitious.

It is commendable to strive for the unattainable and it is courageous to undertake the solution of weighty problems.

It might result in a more direct benefit to the individual citizen, however, and be of more advantage to the particular communities if more people would stop worrying about the solution of international and national problems and concern themselves more with the task of correctly disposing of local issues and choosing between local candidates who claim public favor and seek positions in the service of the city and townships, especially in the "off" years when no national or state officers are to be elected.

Of course every citizen should be interested in national and state elections, but they can all spare a little time from that very important duty to look after the duties closer at home which devolve upon them as citizens.

The questions of city government and law enforcement in the particular locality is of more interest and more concern to the citizens in those years when they are called upon to choose their public servants than a campaign waged three years ago or one to be waged one year hence for the election of national officers.

While the big things, politically speaking, should be looked after at the proper time, there is no need of allowing the larger tasks and the more complex problems to consume time and energy which should be used in the smaller fields of public duty.

The elections this fall are purely local in every sense of the word and the citizen who would see his community prosper materially and morally would serve himself and his neighbors best by forgetting politics, forgetting last fall's elections refusing to become exercised about the outcome of next year's elections and get right down into the work here at home.

There is no larger public task now facing the citizens of Ohio than the local elections this fall.

Savings Bank Depositors Have an Interest In Welfare of Railroads

By FRANK KNOX, President National Bank of the Republic, Salt Lake City

EVERY law that is passed affecting the railroads has an effect upon the investments held by the savings banks as the trustees of the people. If this fact were kept clearly in view by our legislators IT WOULD GO FAR TOWARD HAVING A STEADYING EFFECT UPON THEM, WITH BENEFICIAL RESULTS FOR ALL PARTIES CONCERNED.

It is quite proper to eliminate, and we are eliminating the abuses of power and privilege that have in the past crept into the management of the railroads. But, on the other hand, we must not attempt, while abolishing the privileges of the few, to embark on what has been called the impossible and inequitable task of creating privileges for the many.

Heretofore the savings banks have kept silent as to the affairs of the railroads, but in view of the vast interests they represent, in view of the millions of depositors whose trustees they are, it would seem to be only proper that they ask to be heard. The savings banks have no ax to grind.

THE SAVINGS BANKS HOLD NO BRIEF FOR THE RAILROADS, BUT IT IS THEIR PLAIN DUTY TO USE ALL PROPER MEANS TO PROTECT THE INTERESTS OF THEIR DEPOSITORS.

Poetry For Today

DARK NEUVE CHAPPELLE.

Ah! far frae their mountain-girt homes they are sleeping.
 They died for their country, our brave, gallant men;
 But the women and children at home they are weepin'
 For the husbands and fathers they'll ne'er see again.

Oh, the swing o' the kilt! How it sets the tears startin'
 There's a glamour about it that mak's the he'rt swell;
 For there's many a braw lad that wore the gray tartan
 Lies asleep in his cauld bed at dark Neuve Chapelle.

Oh! wild hills o' Scotland, when spring's charms unfold ye,
 Oh, moors growin' green 'neath spring's magic spell.
 There's money an' eye that was wont to behold ye
 Is closed now forever at dark Neuve Chapelle.

There's mony a voice that would sound o'er the heather,
 When its deep purple waves rolled o'er hill and o'er dell,
 Will sound there no more now, for, silent forever,
 Our brave lads lie sleepin' at dark Neuve Chapelle.

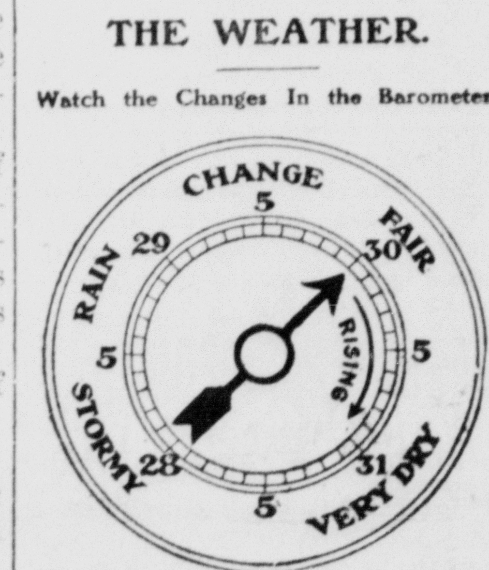

On the green graves at home here the spring flowers are creepin',
 For the kind he'rts that loved them have tended them well;
 But they're nae tender Scottish he'rt near to be keepin'
 A watch on the new graves at dark Neuve Chapelle.

Oh! lads o' the tartan, no more ye'll be turnin'
 To the land where your dyin' eyes looked as ye fell;
 But there's mony a wae he'rt in Scotland is mournin'
 For the lads that are lyin' at dark Neuve Chapelle.

PEARL WHITE

"THE DIRECTOR WHO CROSSES MY PATH AT EVERY TURN IN CAREER—MR. THEODORE WHARTON."

By Pearl White—The Pathe Star.
 Miss Pearl White, the famous moving picture star, can hardly be called superstitious, but she feels that Theodore Wharton, the Pathe producer, is her guiding star, and when he advises anything she can be depended upon to follow the advice without any question. She explains this feeling as follows:

"About five years ago I was lending woman of a stock company playing near New York, and was just about played out. I'd had no vacation in a long time, and my voice needed a rest. Mrs. O. A. Miller joined the company one week and suggested that I go into moving pictures. 'Sure! I'm willing,' said I, 'but where can I get a job?' She gave me a list of film companies, so the next morning I dressed in my best, went to the theatre, rehearsed my next week's play until noon, and then caught a train for New York. It was January, the thermometer was below zero, and there was several feet of snow on the ground. Oh, yes, be sure I remember it very well!

"Arriving in New York I set out on foot to a film studio in 19th Street. You see money was scarce with me then, and I wanted to save that nickel. I asked to see the man who engaged the players and was asked to wait. After a while a man walked out and said, 'I am Mr. Wharton, the director, and the man who engages people.' I was very young and very small, and he seemed about eight feet tall. I asked him for a job and, as he afterwards admitted, he took me for a young thing from the country with a stage bee buzzing in her bonnet. So, in a very fatherly way he gave me a lot of advice, told me it was hard to get an engagement in pictures, and still harder to keep it—that if I had a job of any sort to stick to it. He said he had no opening for me at that time but later if I was in New York permanently, he might be able to use me once in a while.

"I went back to my show somewhat disappointed but still determined. The next week I came again to New York and saw the second name on my list. There the director took me more seriously, and offered me an engagement beginning with the next week. I stayed with that company for one year, and then determined to try a bigger concern. So I went over to Jersey to the Pathe Studio and asked to see a director. In a couple of minutes I was in the presence of Theodore Wharton again. This time he was more encouraging and recommended me to a fellow director. I was engaged and remained with Pathe for some years, but Theodore Wharton left the company the day after I joined and I didn't meet him again until my affairs again took a turn.

"I had just finished 'The Perils of Pauline' and my contract was nearly over with Pathe. I was undecided whether to stay in pictures or go back to the dramatic stage or into vaudeville. The Pathe people informed me that they wanted me to play in a new serial to be produced by some new directors. I was asked to meet them. I walked into the office and there was Theodore Wharton again! My mind was at once made up. I said to Mr. Wharton 'Every time my career takes a turn you cross my path first and it has always meant more success for me. I will play Elaine!'"

WASHINGTON WILL HAVE STRONG LYCEUM COURSE

Demand for Usual Lyceum Attractions Results in Course Consisting of Seven High Grade Numbers Being Obtained—Opening Number Is November 15th.

A short time ago when announcement was made that in all probability Washington would have no lyceum or lecture course this winter, a great demand arose for such source of entertainment and instruction, with the result that within the past forty-eight hours all of the preliminary details usually requiring several weeks have been worked out, and one of the best lyceum courses in many years has been obtained and the opening number will be held November 15th.

The committee appointed to select and push the course is composed of Messrs Fred M. Mark, Ray Maynard, D. H. Rowe, Herman Price, B. E. Kelley, Glenn Woodmansee and Fred Schmid, and at a meeting Tuesday night with Mr. Frank J. Resler, of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, closed a contract for the course and prospectuses and tickets will be ready within a short time.

The committee was extremely fortunate in obtaining really big attractions and the course is one of the best balanced offered to local lyceum patrons in the entire history of the Washington Lyceum Course, and the committee has selected only those numbers which are expected to give the utmost satisfaction, and which are marked by refinement and calculated to be not only highly entertaining but educational, realizing that the best is never too good for Washingtonians and Fayette countians.

One of the strongest numbers of the course is the opening entertainment on November 15th—The Fidelity Grand Operatic Company, composed of real artists who put on a classical program of great merit.

November 29th that king of the humorists, Ralph Bingham, assisted by his talented wife, will appear. Mr. Bingham is one of the really big humorists of the nation, and not new to many local citizens.

The third attraction is the American Male Quartette an organization of the first magnitude and equal to any ever appearing in the city. An extremely clever cartoonist is a pleasant diversion of the evening's entertainment.

January 4th, Thomas Brooks Fletcher, a magnetic lecturer who for several years has been one of the greatest platform speakers in America, and who has always made good and been recalled more times than nine-tenths of the lyceum attractions.

January 14th, The Rawels, a unique and intensely interesting company, all graduates of Oxford, England, will appear.

February 24th, the well known Cavaliers, consisting of seven highly talented men and women, each an expert in his or her role, are to appear.

The course will be closed with another giant of the platform, Chancellor George H. Bradford, in one of his strongest lectures upon a theme of vital importance and absorbing interest.

The above dates are subject to slight change before the prospectuses are issued, but all of the seven numbers will be retained.

The Lyceum Course will, as usual, be held in the city's largest auditorium, Grace Church, and it is the intention of the committee to hold the ticket sale down to comfortable seating capacity.

ANNUAL SALE BIG SUCCESS

An immense crowd of breeders and farmers including a number of prominent breeders from a distance, attended the annual fall sale of Improved Durocs, conducted by the Ex. Estate of Hugh K. Stewart, at Spring Hill Farm, Tuesday.

The big pavilion was filled when Col. H. L. Inglehart, of Elizabethtown, Ky., rose to cry the sale, in which he was assisted by Col. W. H. Irwin, of Harrod, Ohio; W. F. Jefferson, Clerk.

Fall sales have not been moving off with the swing of last year generally, but there was no lack of bidding at the Spring Hill sale and breeders pronounced it the best sale they had attended this fall, and were loud in praise of the offering.

Forty-three head of the Durocs averaged $40. One of the best spring gilts brought $100 and a spring boar $100.

WHY GRAND JURY ASKS FOR CHANGES AT JAIL

Solitary Confinement Cell Advocated Is Said to Have Long Been Badly Required in County Bastile—Solitary Confinement Impossible at the Present Time.

The grand jury's recommendation that a cell for solitary confinement be placed in the county jail represents the first radical changes recommended by that body in recent years and brings attention to the present arrangement of cells in the county bastille.

The jail at the present time has neither solitary confinement cell or padded cell, but is composed of two tiers of steel barred cells in that portion set aside for male prisoners, and two cells on the second floor in the female section of the jail, the last named portion of the prison being over one of the living rooms of the residence portion of the jail and completely isolated from the main part of the prison.

The main portion of the jail contains eight cells, four on the first floor and four on the second, and as what is said in one cell can easily be heard in the other cells on the same floor, it has always been an extremely difficult matter to prevent one prisoner talking with the others, and a solitary confinement cell would fill a long felt need, it is claimed.

In addition to the above all prisoners are sometimes kept awake by the ravings of an insane man or one who is intoxicated, and solitary confinement would hold the din from the main part of the prison, it is argued.

Ordinarily prisoners are permitted the freedom of the various corridors inside the prison, but it is often necessary to lock a prisoner in a cell, and sometimes confinement in a solitary cell is deemed advisable to compel obedience.

Whether the county commissioners will act upon the recommendation of the grand jury, remains to be seen, as a solitary confinement cell would be a problem to locate in the prison as at present arranged.

The management of the Sharp memorial building will be placed in the hands of Secretary Patton, instead of under the direct management of the board as heretofore.

RIGHT ON THE JOB.

Mose, the Newsboy, Grasped the Situation and Saved the Day.

Mose Jacobs, the richest newsboy in the country, began selling papers in Des Moines, Ia., when six years of age and at forty-four is still at it. He has a fine house, an automobile and a good income. He has established his business in a store and is now a merchant, but it is still his delight to meet incoming trains with his cry of "Paper!" His average sales are 3,000 a day.

Once upon a time Mose saved the city of Des Moines from disgrace. The then secretary of war, Russell A. Alger, was coming to the capital of Iowa. Great plans had been made for his reception. There was to be a band, many open carriages and tall hats and reception committee ribbons a-fluttering. But in some way the plans miscarried. When the great man stepped from the train there was nobody there to meet him—nobody, that is, except Mose, the newsboy. Mose grasped the situation in a second. He recognized Mr. Alger from his pictures. He dumped his bundle of papers on the platform and strode up to the secretary of war, extending a cordial hand.

"Mr. Alger, I believe?"
It was Mose's best voice, the voice which has brought in the coppers to the tune of about $25,000.

"I'm glad to meet you, sir. I'm

Mose Jacobs. There's evidently been some mistake. The committee expected you on a later train, but—welcome to Des Moines. The keys of the city are yours." And Mr. Alger was hustled into a carriage and directed to a hotel. —American Magazine.

The annual inspection of Washington Temple 380 Pythian Sisters, passed off very successfully at the Pythian Castle Tuesday night.

There was a good attendance of twenty-five members and ten visitors from Bloomingburg and the work moved off with the utmost smoothness.

Mrs. Anna L. Frinck of Lancaster, district Deputy, acted as inspecting officer, giving a grade of 98 per cent in the work as well as expressing high appreciation of its excellence.

Mrs. Frinck remarked that she had never seen a degree staff in the state that made a better appearance on the floor than this one.

The staff drill, under the direction of the captain, Miss Emma Wilson, was admirably put on and the beautiful new robes of the members added greatly to the effect.

Refreshments in the banquet hall and an enjoyable social hour followed the work. Mrs. John Wilson was chairman of the entertaining committee in charge.

The Wednesday afternoon Euchre Club resumed its fortnightly sessions interrupted during the summer season, at the home of Mrs. R. C. Pedford, Wednesday afternoon.

A delicious collation followed the game.

The Cecilians renewed their musical studies Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. S. Daugherty, with a good attendance of members and prospects for a year of strenuous work.

The new president, Mrs. Margaret L. Stitt, gave a brief opening greeting, giving expression to the Cecilians' ambitions for the coming year.

Mrs. Lizzie L. Barnes covered the "Courier Review" fully in an interesting way and Mrs. Netta Ballard introduced considerable humor into a bright paper on "The Victrola—Its Mechanism and its place as a musical instrument."

The paper was singularly appropriate to grand opera Victrola records which closed the program.

There were several guests attending.

Mr. Alex H. Ballard delightfully entertained at a stag dinner Tuesday evening, Messrs George H. Hitchcock, Lewis D. Saxton, Pearce Ballard, George Robinson, Clarence Craig, Horace Ireland, C. Graham Beckel, Ellis Daugherty.

Views of Others

Washington C. H., Oct. 5, 1915.
Editor Herald:

It is my understanding that the contract for lighting the city is out the first of 1916. My idea is to not renew this contract but to issue bonds and buy out the lighting system and let the city run it with non-partisan officers and labor.

If the people who now own this business can run it at a profit, why not the city? And then we could either have cheaper lights, such as Cleveland, for instance, at 3 cents, or we would still maintain the present rate and use the surplus for improvements.

I think if this was put before the public in the proper manner that they would gladly vote the bond issue for it. I would like to hear from someone else on this subject.

"DOWN IN ALABAMA" WILL BE FUNNY

No local talent entertainment in recent years has scored such a success as Mr. J. Bassett Willard's plantation play of southern life—"Down in Alabama"—which the Loyal Daughters Class of the Christian church have arranged to present at the Opera House, Friday evening, October 22nd.

Not only have the smaller cities turned out immense audiences, but Middletown, Urbana Bellefontaine—and larger cities have given audiences taxing the capacity of their largest auditoriums. Mr. Willard and his assistant, Mr. Herchel Williams, will attend to all of the coaching and play two leading comedy parts. From 75 to 100 local people will be used in the cast.

It Was a Fine Cod.

The artist William M. Chase once hired a fish, painted a picture of it in two hours and afterward sold it to the Corcoran Art gallery at Washington for $2,000. Mr. Chase afterward informed the fish dealer who had rented him the fish of the price he had received for the picture. "Well," commented the fishmonger, "it was a fine cod!"—Philadelphia Record.

SPEED OF PROJECTILES.

How the Velocity of Cannon Balls and Bullets is Measured.

How fast does a bullet travel? The highest velocity ever given to a cannon ball is 1,026 feet per second. This is equal to a mile in little more than three seconds, or nearly twenty miles a minute.

A rifle bullet does not travel so fast as a cannon ball, the average rate being 1,275 feet per second. This matter of speed is tested in a very interesting way.

A long wooden shed is used, in which a distance of exactly 100 feet has been carefully marked off. At each end of this space is a stand something like a target with a large circular opening where the bullseye should be. Across each opening is stretched a small electric wire, connected with a delicate instrument in another room.

The rifle from which the firing is done is so aimed that the bullet which flies from it cuts both wires. Obviously the difference in time between the cutting of the two wires marks the speed of the bullet through that 100 feet.

When the first wire is cut an electric current is broken and a rod falls, moving a pointer on a slide in its descent. The breaking of the second wire acts in the same manner on another set of rods, slides and pointers.

The difference in the marks made by the pointers on the slides makes it possible to estimate the difference in their time of falling, and from these calculations accurate figures as to speed are obtained.—London Answers.

NEW YORK BUSINESS MEN BUSY

Are Striving to Secure Dyestuffs From Germany.

New York, Oct. 6.—Negotiations are being conducted with the British government by dyestuff importers in New York, it was stated definitely in importing circles, for the unhindered passage of shipments of dyestuffs from Germany to this country by way of Norway and Sweden. The project covers some six cargoes and is said to include an agreement between the American importers and the British government by which 50 per cent of the cargoes received under the plan are to be reshipped to British dyestuff users.

According to the reports current in the dye industry the plan is based on an agreement reached between American importers and the German government for the export of six cargoes by way of Norway and Sweden. The importers here have been contending that the British government might seize the cargoes. Persons in close touch with the situation say that the first of these difficulties has been overcome, at least partially, although it is not at all certain, according to the gossip, whether the German government will agree to such a proposition. If it is understood that half of the shipment is to be returned to Great Britain. Three cargoes are said to be ready for shipment from Germany to Scandinavian ports, in accordance with the arrangement, and three more will follow when arrangements have been more definitely completed. The reshipments to English textile manufacturers are to be made at the market prices prevailing in this country.

ACTIVE ALONG A WIDE FRONT

Russians Begin an Energetic Offensive.

HAMMER GERMAN LINES

Alfred D. Harding, the Teuton Enthusiast in the Western Zone, Preparing to Attempting Another Drive in Force—British Fleet Shelling German Positions On the Coast of Belgium—Review of Operations.

London, Oct. 6.—The big guns of the allies have again undertaken the task of attempting to level German entrenchments, presumably in preparation for a continuation of the attacks which proved successful in Artois and Champagne. In some sectors there has been infantry fighting, in which a trench, or a few yards of a trench, changes hands, this being particularly the case in the areas where the allies have made their gains and where the Germans are trying to win back the lost ground. The British fleet, too, is almost continuously bombarding the German positions on the coast of Belgium.

Communication routes behind the German lines continue to be heavily shelled by the French artillery and their aircraft.

Petrograd reports that the Russians, who for five months have been retreating, have begun an energetic offensive along a wide front, from Riga to southeast of Vilna, and have already met with considerable success. This, however, is denied by Berlin, which says that all the Russian attacks have been repulsed.

A German official statement on the general offensive movement of the entente allies on the western front declares in effect that it is shown to have been a do-or-die effort to end the war, which failed. The Berlin war office asserts that both French and British army orders prove that the movement was started with the intention of driving the Germans from French soil. The allies, the statement declares, expected to break through the German lines and gain the open field, thus turning out the Teutons, the expulsion of whom would influence hitherto neutral nations to join the entente powers. Notwithstanding what is declared to have been a seven-fold numerical superiority and possession of vast stores of war material, the German lines were not broken, but merely pushed back in two comparatively small sectors to the second, and by no means the last, German line. It is asserted that virtually no German troops which were intended for service on other fronts were diverted from their destination by the allied attack.

PHYSICIANS' INSURANCE CONDEMNED

Columbus, Oct. 6.—State Superintendent of Insurance Frank Taggart ordered casualty companies to immediately cancel all policies for the protection of physicians against damages through suits for malpractice and to return the unearned premiums to the policyholders. Thousands of physicians in the state are affected by the ruling, as most of the practitioners have been carrying this kind of insurance.

CAPACITY ECLIPSED TEN TIMES

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Applicants for tickets to the world's series games to be played in this city beginning Friday will not know until Thursday whether they are fortunate enough to secure the coveted seats. The management of the club announced that notices would be sent out by mail to those to whom tickets have been allotted, stating how they can be obtained. Thousands, however, are doomed to disappointment because the applications exceed the seating capacity of the park tenfold or more. The Philadelphia baseball writers selected Chandler E. Richter of Sporting Life to be one of the official scorers of the series. President Wilson will attend Saturday's game here.

B. F. KEITH'S

"The Bride Shop" written by Fred de Gressac, author of "The Enchantress" will be the headline attraction at Keith's Theater, Columbus, for the week of October 11. Andrew Tombs, the celebrated comedian and Miss Lola Wentworth, the attractive young prima donna, will be co-stars of this tabloid musical comedy. The staging, costuming and every detail of this act is as perfect as possible, and reflects the good showmanship of A. B. Rolfe, who presents the act. Twenty capable assistants including the most attractive girls in vaudeville, will support Miss Wentworth and Mr. Tombs.

J. Warren Keane and Miss Grace White will give a new variety act which they program as "Class, Tricks, Laughs and Music." They will offer their own original card and billiard tricks as well as new songs and piano attractions.

Arthur Sullivan and his capable company will present "Straight," a play dealing with the reformation of crooks in a new way. Mr. Sullivan is an actor-author who is also a successful stage director and it is due to his ability that "Straight" is so cleverly staged.

Mignon, the dainty mimic, will present her ideas of the mannerisms of older performers as well as her original ideas of entertaining.

There will be three feature acts and the Pathe pictures to complete the bill.

KEITH'S SUNDAY PICTURES.

For Sunday, October 10, "The Closing Net" by H. C. Rowland, with Howard Estabrook in the leading role, will be the film attraction at Keith's both afternoon and night. Mr. Estabrook was the original "Brown of Harvard" and has since scored in other successes. "The Closing Net" is the fifth of the Gold Rooster picture plays to be shown at Keith's where, they are attracting wide attention.

MINE RESCUE MEN TRAIN

By Associated Press.

Columbus, October 6. — Football men never got more grilling training on the gridiron than John M. Roan, state safety mining commission, began giving his new mine rescue team about the state house several days ago.

Here are a few antics which Roan made his men to perform: Stand in tightly sealed rooms in the capitol basement filled with thick smoke, wearing heavy oxygen helmets and tanks. Climb over ten foot wall in smoke-filled room, carrying dummy weighing 150 pounds. Tramp through corridors of cement basement at state house for distance equivalent to three miles, wearing helmet. Climb state house dome wearing helmet. Crawl through ventilating tunnel two feet high and carry dummy. Manipulate mine machinery in complete darkness.

The state mine safety car, kept at Columbus, always ready to make a run to the mining districts of eastern or southern Ohio, also is the practice ground for the men.

The six new mine inspectors appointed recently are: Daniel Jones, Jackson; James Davis, Massillon; James P. Cory, Belmont county; James Dugan, Murray City; William Millgate, New Straitsville, and John E. Cox, Glouster.

The walls of the reservoir were 15 feet in height and constructed of concrete. The contractors who constructed the reservoir were Shumway & Shumway, the men who made the Devalon road improvement in this county.

SEEKING HAPPINESS.

Little Things That Make Living a Joy Are Not Always Appreciated.

We are told that happiness comes by pieces and that it is these small bits linked together that make our lives worth while. Some of us are not content to take our happiness by degrees or at intervals. We want it all the time in big pieces, and if we cannot have it that way we think that we are deprived of our natural rights and look upon ourselves as injured beings.

It is a rather singular expression of human nature how happiness affects the individual. With some of us it makes us friendlier toward others and anxious that they should experience like joys; with others it makes us too satisfied with ourselves to think very much of our neighbors.

Perhaps those of us who know what the joy of living means have experienced both of these attitudes at different periods of our lives and are in position, therefore, to appreciate a varying viewpoint, but even so it is only after we lose something of that joy of living and have found out for ourselves that there are shadows which no amount of sunlight can disperse that we can readily appreciate the blessing of whatever happiness may find its way into our lives.

The little things that count so much in our intercourse with each other are not always regarded as highly as they should be, and for this reason we pass by much that would give us joy if we only knew how and where to find it.—Charleston News and Courier.

Gardens in the Ice.

A glacier when it dislodges itself and sails away over the Arctic ocean never travels alone. In the wake of every large one floats a line of similar companions. The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and any one who has watched the progress of the wild duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name. Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath, just as sawdust does. After a time the moss decays and forms a soil, in which the seeds of buttercups and dandelions, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Professional Pawners.

In many of the mean streets of London there are professional pawnbrokers—women, well known to the pawnbrokers, who for small payments take clothes and household goods to pawn for their neighbors. It is stated that the function of the professional pawner is twofold. The woman who pawns through a recognized intermediary gets a larger loan than she would if she did the business herself. For the pawnbroker the professional pawner guarantees the good faith of the owner and will be able to exercise pressure in case of default.—London Express.

ODESSA'S RAPID RISE.

In Commerce and Intellect It Is the Capital of New Russia.

Odessa is one of the most important seaports of Russia, ranking, by reason of its population and its foreign trade, after Petrograd, Moscow and Warsaw. Since it was founded in 1794 near the ruins of a Turkish fort that fell into Russian hands in 1789 it has rapidly become the intellectual and commercial capital of what is called New Russia. It is the principal export town for the extensive grain growing districts of south Russia, the see of an archbishop of the Greek Orthodox church, the center of a fine university and the headquarters of the Seventh army corps.

The port lies on the shore of the Black sea, about midway between the estuaries of the Dniester and Dnieper, 967 miles from Moscow and 381 from Kiev. The city is built facing the sea, on low cliffs, seamed with deep ravines and hollowed out by galleries in the soft rock, in which thousands of the poorest inhabitants live. But above

LIFE ON SWAN ISLAND.

Probably the World's Most Isolated Wireless Station.

On Swan island, in the Caribbean sea, is situated what is probably the most isolated wireless station in the world. The station crew is made up of three operators, two engineers, a cook, a machinist and three laborers.

No women are permitted to land on the island. Men who express a willingness to go to Swan island are obliged to sign a contract whereby they agree to remain at least eighteen months or waive their right to free return transportation. Those remaining the full period of service are returned to their homes by way of one of the Central American ports and are granted six weeks' vacation with full pay.

Strangely enough, there is no difficulty in obtaining men to man the station. Applicants, indeed, exceed the number of vacancies. Board and lodging, of course, are supplied, a boat bearing all provisions necessary, including fresh meat, and the mail as well, arriving regularly every two weeks. Some men have remained on the island as long as two years and a half and, subsequently, have been glad to return to the station.—Philadelphia Record.

Six Follies of Science.

The six follies of science are the squaring of the circle, perpetual motion, the philosopher's stone, the elixir of life, magic and astrology.

In all ages men of undoubted ability have toiled early and late to unravel the mysteries supposed to be connected with these fascinating problems. It is not always remembered that such intellectual giants as Bacon, Sir Robert Boyle and Sir Isaac Newton sought the philosopher's stone. In the study of astrology Lilly was for a time even pensioned by parliament.

Most of these "follies" conferred indirect benefits upon science, for in seeking one thing their devotees discovered many another. The craze for the secret, or unknown, has still its hold upon men and is seen in palmistry and kindred cults.—Exchange.

The Maid's Reply.

As William bent over her fair face he whispered: "Darling, if I should ask you in French if I might kiss you what would you answer?"

She, calling up her scanty knowledge of the French language, exclaimed, "Billet doux!"—Exchange.
